Suggestion given by esteemed Committee members

Suggestions By Mr. Ganesh

1. As per NEP-2020, Students to be exposed to creative thinking, multi-disciplinary and broad-based learning. Students must be Involved in live projects, which will lead to better learning.
2. He also recommended getting students involved in creating research-based documentaries and short videos to broaden and improve their research horizons.
3. Hosting competitions on "Business Simulations" for faculty members of DSI and other institutions to improve teaching process and enable them with better pedagogical tools and virtual real time experiences
4. Collaborate with organisations like "Anubhavam", a Chennai based organisation that provide colleges with solutions for enhancing and enlarging knowledge on research and publication activity. He also proposed that students be involved in marketing research by recognising social problems, participating in consulting activities, and offering real-time business solutions to small and micro firms.
5. ICT Academy will engage with DSBA to extend FDPs and workshops sessions for faculty members and students.
6. He suggested career aspiration tests and psychometric analyses to help the students analyse and improve their competency and managerial skills. It will also help faculty mentors to guide students better.

Suggestions By Dr. RaviShankar

1. He advised to increase interaction with industry professionals to educate students about industry standards and attempt to be made to close the gap between what is taught and what is the expected student learning. Also based on the students' self-assessment, choice and interest, students to be trained in a single field that meets market demands.
2. He recommended creating a strong network with the alumni and gathering their opinions, insights into the sector, and expectations from the market.
3. Collaborate with DSATM – School of Architecture to offer workshops to students on creativity.

Action Plan

1. Options are being explored to offer courses on a specific domain, which will help student proficiency and career opportunities in the selected domain.
2. Increase creativity and research knowledge, students shall be given orientation on creating contents and short videos and present the findings on select topics.
3. Faculties shall be identified for ICT workshops based on their interest and need
4. Faculty shall be encouraged to participate in 'Business Simulation' workshop and competitions.
5. Involve students in marketing research, social problems shall be identified through NSS and students shall be sensitized to identify local solutions that can be addressed and attempts shall be made to implement feasible solution.
6. Alumni office bearers will be encouraged to conduct interactive events for students
7. Restructuring of various cells and committees has been finalised and the same is intimated to the faculties.
